

THE EMERGENCY FOOD AND SHELTER PROGRAM

The Emergency Food and Shelter Program was established March 24, 1983, with the signing of the Job Stimulus Bill Public Law 98-8. That legislation created a National Board, which has since been chaired by the Federal Emergency Management Agency and consists of representatives from the American Red Cross, Catholic Charities USA, the Salvation Army, Council of Jewish Federations, United Way of America and the National Council of Churches in Christ in the USA. The legislation establishing the program was re-authorized under the Stewart B. McKinney Homeless Assistance Act (P.L. 100-77 - signed into law on July 24, 1987 and subsequently re-authorized under P.L. 100-628, signed into law on November 7, 1988).

The Emergency Food and Shelter Program is sponsored by the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) under the Department of Homeland Security which constitutes the National Board. In addition to chairing The National Board for the program, FEMA provides policy guidance, oversight, federal coordination and staff assistance to the National Board. The funds from the program are awarded from FEMA. At the end of the fiscal year, FEMA reports to the United States Congress the activities of the program in the Annual Interagency Council on the Homeless Report. United Way of America audits the Emergency Food and Shelter Program monitored by the Inspector General. Finally FEMA initiates federal collection procedures to collect funds due when efforts of the National Board have not been successful. The Emergency Food and Shelter Program is unique in that it has created a lasting public-private partnership. At the national level, the federal government and board member organizations have the legal responsibility to work together to set allocations criteria and establish program guidelines. This is also true for the local level in which a local board reflecting the National Board has similar and more specific responsibilities. Local Boards are responsible for specific funding decisions and for setting local program guidelines.

The Emergency Food and Shelter Program (EFSP) was created to supplement the work of local social service agencies, both non-profit and governmental, in assisting people in need of emergency assistance. The funding should be used to target special emergency needs. These needs are primarily economic in nature, as opposed to disaster related. The funding supplements feeding and sheltering efforts in ways that make a difference to the community. The goal of the program is to create inclusive coalitions that meet regularly to determine the best use of funds and to monitor their use in respective communities; to assess community needs; encourage agencies to work together to emphasize their respective strengths; work out common problems and prevent duplication efforts; and examine if the program is helping to meet the needs of special populations in an area such as minorities, Native Americans, veterans, families with children, the elderly, and the handicapped.

The program offers an opportunity for agencies to coordinate the assistance provided across agencies, to families and individuals applying for rental, mortgage, or utility assistance; enhance a food banking network that is economical in its cost and broad in its coverage; reinforce creative cooperation among feeding and sheltering sites so their communication ensures help for street populations most in need of such help; and establish or maintain a system that compliments rather than supplants existing private and governmental efforts to provide urgently needed assistance. Local providers can also initiate dialogue with local offices of federal entities; pool agency efforts to gain federal and private foundation grants; leverage EFSP funds within the community by encouraging matches of local EFSP allocations from state and local governments and private resources; and exchange ideas to share administrative and accounting methods that can improve delivery of services and focus on collaborative rather than the competitive aspects of agency relations.

A Local Recipient Organization (LRO) refers to the local private or public organization that will receive any award of funds from the National Board. An award refers to the award of funds made by the National Board to a local private or public organization on the recommendation of a Local Board.

Since each award phase is new, the Local Board is a new entity in every phase. The National Board has designated United Way Suncoast as convener of the Local Board in this community. The convener will ask each core organization to designate or re-designate a representative each phase.

As convener, United Way Suncoast provides administrative support, staff, and acts as fiscal agent for the Local Board. On behalf of the Local Board, United Way alerts the community of the availability of funds, serves as the point of contact for Local Recipient Organizations (LRO), prepares required reports for the National Board, coordinates the monitoring of the performance of the LRO's and facilitates integration with existing social service programs.

Public Law 101-121, section 319 states that a recipient organization shall not use federally appropriated grant funds for lobbying activities. This condition bars the use of federal money for political activities, but does not in any way restrict lobbying or political activities paid for with non-federal funds. This condition prohibits the use of federal grant funds for the following activities:

- Federal, state or local electioneering and support of such entities as campaign organizations and political action committees.
- Direct lobbying of the congress and state legislature to influence legislation
- Grass roots lobbying concerning either federal or state legislation
- Lobbying of the executive branch in connection with decisions to sign or veto enrolled legislation and
- Efforts to utilize state or local officials to lobby the congressional or state officials.

The Emergency Food and Shelter Program is an effective example of a public-private partnership in which most of the funds go directly to services. Administrative costs are absorbed by the broad collaboration that provides a multitude of support and networks for the program. This has made the Emergency Food and Shelter Program a model of collaboration and efficiency. For consideration for the next program phase, complete and return the following application by the deadline date.
